

Members of the Albany City Council, fresh from the local opening of BART service, instructed City Attorney Larry Saler, at Monday night's meeting, to prepare a resolution to all directors who have served since the inception of the transit system, thanking them for their service in bringing a speedy transportation system to the Bay Area.

"This is a great day for the City of Albany," said Councilman Lewis Howell. "We have taken a great step forward. We now have a modern transportation system, which, although it may not be perfect, will go down in history as the greatest, when it is completed."

Council members also congratulated and thanked Dick Miles, Chamber of Commerce president, and Hal Denham, Chamber manager, for their participation in the opening day ceremonies.

Council also accepted the announcement from Captain Richard T. McSheehy, that he would be retiring from the Albany Fire Dept. effective March 1, after 30 years and 9 months of service.

On the motion of Councilman Howell, who also serves as Fire Commissioner, the Council accepted Captain McSheehy's resignation "with regret." Howell also indicated he would not suggest the usual resolution be drafted, but would ask the Council to wait until other plans could be explored to properly thank long-time City employees, such as McSheehy and Police Chief Ralph Jensen.

Correspondence from Taft St. resident, Neil Havlik, concerning the disposition of mudslide residue from Albany Hill, was referred to City Administrative Officer James Turner, who was instructed to meet with Mr. Havlik to discuss the problem.

Correspondence from Frederick B. Hodges, State Director of Public Health, containing an explanation of the proposed transfer of the Public Health facilities from Berkeley to Sacramento, was filed as "informative." However, Councilmen agreed that savings on paper are not always fact when put into operation. They declared they would continue to oppose the move.

A letter from a former resident of Albany, now living in Hayward, concerning construction on Albany Hill, will be answered by the City Administrator. The Council instructed Turner to explain exactly what is being planned for Albany Hill, and to also notify the correspondent that the Council had recently turned down an application to construct on top of the Hill.

In discussing the Hill, Councilman Hubert Call requested the Mayor to set up an attorney-client session with Larry Saler, to explore what should be done concerning a suit which has been filed against the City and the Interstate General Development Corp.'s Hill construction, which could possibly hold the project up. Councilmen know the suit has been filed, but they have never been formally served with the papers, as yet.

Mayor Joe Carlevaro also noted that the Council would also like to find out just which people make up the "Friends of Albany Hill" group, as very few names have been made public, although many people have appeared before the Council voicing opposition to Hill construction.

The Mayor also noted that this group has publicly solicited funds, without obtaining a permit, and it is important to know just who they are and what is happening to the funds they have received, if any.

In answer to correspondence received last week from several businesses in the San Pablo Avenue-Solano area, Chief Jensen and Administrative Officer Turner recommended to the Council that one green zone on the west side of San Pablo (north of Solano) and one green zone on the north side of Solano (just west of San Pablo) be changed to one-hour zones.

An additional recommendation included changing the one-hour parking stalls in front of Albany Auto Parts, 923 San Pablo Ave., and the C&W Bike Shop, 919 San Pablo Ave., to green zones.

Further correspondence from Chief Jensen, requested the employment of Mrs. Elizabeth Dalrymple be extended for another 30-day period, inasmuch as Federal funds are still not available for funding her position as clerk in the Police Dept., under the Emergency Employment Act.

At the request of Betty de Luchi, city treasurer, Mrs. Carol Garner was granted regular status as PBX Operator-General Clerk at City Hall, effective February 1. Mrs. Garner was appointed to the position effective February 1, 1972, and has satisfactorily completed her one-year probationary period.

Albany High's Mid Term Grads

The Albany High School system is currently set up so that any student can now graduate after the third year, providing he or she has enough credits. Students who decide to continue for the fourth year have an opportunity to expand themselves, by taking electives they did not have time to take before.

In 1972 there were only 10 mid-term graduates in January. This year there are 25. A few of the seniors have marriage plans, but most of them plan on going to work, or continuing their education at college or junior college, according to a partial survey made recently among the mid-term grads.

Although they left school last week, they will not receive their diplomas until June. However, they may return to attend any of the spring senior activities, such as Ditch Day and the Senior Prom.

The twenty-five mid-term graduates were: Karen Rimov, Becky Moore, Debbie Goldman, Poel Thurston, Kevin Westbrook, Mary Healy, Steve Gooding, Margaret Ricketts, Nyra Straub, Richard Lewis, Allan Bolte, Katie Hanson and Rhoda Harold.

Library Display Of London Works

Fifty-three first editions of Jack London's complete works are on display now in the Jack London Room, Oakland Main Library.

The collection includes autographed copies, inscriptions with the colorful binding of the early twenties. The books include London's collection of Klondike stories "The Son of the Wolf," his most recently re-issued play "Gold" and a number of biographies of London, one written by his wife, Charmian, and one by his daughter, Joan.

This outstanding collection is on indefinite loan by Sal Noto, a Jack London enthusiast, a mechanical designer and former school teacher in Mountain View, Calif. The collection can be seen Tuesday through Saturday, 12 noon to 4 p.m. in the Jack London Room. Mr. Noto started his collection after reading "Sailor on Horseback" in 1961 and completed it in 1967 with purchase of the play "Acorn Planter."

NOTICE

Family-style movies are continuing to be shown at the Albany Library every Wednesday evening. Tonight's features will be "Laughter Allowed," and "Fire Mountain," a movie concerning a volcano. The show starts at 7 p.m., and lasts for approximately 40 minutes. For more information about this free show, please call the Library, 526-3720.

Albany Attends BART Line Opening Day Ceremonies

Following the ceremony, special guests of the cities of El Cerrito and Albany boarded the five-car train, which was already crowded with dignitaries and guests from Richmond.

Another two stops were made in Berkeley, where Mayor Warren Widener conducted ribbon cutting ceremonies at the Central Berkeley Station and the Ashby Station. When the train reached the MacArthur Station in Oakland it became part of the regular revenue service, and continued to Fremont and returned on its regular run.

Regular passenger service on the full Richmond-Fremont route began at 11 a.m., following the completion of all opening day ceremonies.

The Richmond-Oakland line comprises six stations. They are: Richmond, El Cerrito Del Norte, El Cerrito Plaza, North Berkeley, Central Berkeley and Ashby.

Operating hours will be from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, and fares on the route will range from a minimum of 20 cents for trips of approximately six miles, to $1.10 for the full trip from Richmond to Fremont. With service stabilized, traveling the full 39 mile route from Richmond to Fremont should take just 49 minutes, including station stops.

Free pocket-sized folders are available at all six new stations, to illustrate the process for riding BART in four basic steps. The illustrated, color guides are available from the tall, triangular kiosks which stand just inside each station entrance. They will also be available at all BART ticket sales displays, located in 128 branch banks in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

Posters illustrating the basic steps will also be displayed on the sides of the kiosks, and in four-foot-square wall frames, placed near each station's ticket vending machines. The machines themselves will also be labeled.

Gubser's Group Cleans Up Again

During the clean-up the pupils filled every trash container under the BART tracks, and collected over 400 aluminum cans, weighing approximately 23 pounds.

Other activities included an Albany Bay hike and waterfront cleanup on Monday, Jan. 15, and an illustrated lecture on ecology by a former Cornell student, Marco Meniketti, who is now studying marine biology at the University of California.

with the four basic steps, which will enable passengers to ride BART without any personal assistance, relying on the variety of automatic equipment and information aids built into the system.

However, almost twice the normal complement of station agents, line supervisors, security officers and other passenger-service personnel will staff the stations and trains at first, to instruct and inform first-time riders.

And to further dispense information to the public, English, Spanish and Chinese speaking operators will man BART's Phone Information Center every weekday, dispensing BART and AC Transit Bus information from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Free parking for BART patrons is provided at five of the six newly-opened Richmond-Oakland stations, with only the subway facility in downtown Berkeley, at Shattuck Avenue, without parking. Short-time parking areas to accommodate those bringing or picking-up commuters has also been provided. This area can be used as mid-day parking for shoppers and other non-commute BART patrons, but will be closed to all-day commute parkers.

For the handicapped, special stalls, larger than usual, have been constructed in each parking lot. These are located near station entrances, and the handicapped elevators. Parking lots have been designed so a patron never has to walk far to a station entrance from his car, and wide walkways through the lots serve both the handicapped patron and all pedestrians walking between their cars and the stations.

Bicycle racks have also been installed at all surface and aerial stations from Richmond to Fremont. These racks, specially designed for BART, enable bicyclists to secure both the front and back wheels of their bikes, using a special high security, steel alloy 3/8" chain. The cyclist must provide his own padlock, however.

Man Dies In Village Fire

A fire, apparently caused by a smoldering cigarette, took the life of a University Village resident last week.

E. L. Leatherwood was found unconscious on his burning couch in the living room of his residence at 1120 8th Street.

Albany firemen and policemen rushed him to Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley, where plans were being made to transfer the burn victim to the St. Francis Hospital Burn Center in San Francisco, when he died.

Damage to the apartment and contents totaled approximately $1,000, according to the firemen, who said only a relatively small area of the living room had been affected by the fire.

Senators Oppose Department Move

State Senator Nicholas Petris and Senator John Holmdahl, both of Oakland, have introduced a resolution in the Senate requesting that the State Dept. of Health's Berkeley facility not be transferred.

The impetus for the resolution came from the recently announced plans of the Reagan Administration to move most of the Health Dept., located in Berkeley, to Sacramento, a move every state legislator in Alameda County called "unjustified and unfortunate."

Opponents cite loss of jobs, particularly by key personnel; unneeded expense, the advantage of the shared library and research facilities on the Berkeley UC campus, and the "continuing trend of the Reagan administration to reduce health services."

They particularly took issue with the loss of highly-skilled personnel, who would quit rather than be relocated in Sacramento.

Senator Petris, author of numerous health bills, said he introduced the resolution "to place the State Senate firmly on record as opposing this waste of taxpayers' money and the futile effort to centralize governmental services."

The Senator also stated he intends to approach the Senate Finance Committee, to insure that no money is appropriated to pay for the transfer.

School Board Meeting To Review Bond Proposal

President Robert C. M. Chin has called a special meeting of the Board of Education for 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 6, in the Cornell cafeteria, to review the plans for a Bond Election to be held in May.

The public is urged to attend this special meeting, Chin announced, to make their views known, as consideration is given to a study of the bond proposal to provide facilities to relieve conditions caused by the closing of Marin and part of Cornell schools.

The proposal, as presented by Board Site Committee members Jack Rosano and Ruth Ganong, has the following features based on the Citizens' Advisory Committee study and downward population trends:

1. Build a middle school on Gill Tract for the 6th, 7th, & 8th graders of the District for 500 pupils.

2. Remodel Cornell School, removing the unsafe sections and remodeling the present administration offices for student use in order that the overcrowded playground area would be relieved.

3. The possible relocation of MacGregor students at either the new school to be built at Marin or the remodeled facilities at Cornell, both planned for a maximum of 480 students in grades kindergarten through grade 5.

4. Temporary use of MacGregor for district administrative offices.

5. The recently remodeled basement of the high school to be shared by the high school and the Albany Adult School program which has approximately 2,500 students enrolled.

These recommendations have been made in order to provide MacGregor youngsters the opportunity for an education in a better physical plant, which will include a library-media center, lunch room and indoor play area, all of which are lacking in the MacGregor School.

MacGregor School is 25 years old, educationally inadequate and would require considerable expense to bring it up to modern day standards for classroom use. Conversion to District administrative offices would require only a modest expense.

Little League Sign-Up Dates

Albany boys interested in playing baseball this year, may sign up with Albany Little League on Monday, Feb. 5, or Thursday, Feb. 8, from 7 to 9 p.m., in the Cornell School cafeteria.

A physical examination is mandatory, and physical fitness forms will be given to each boy who signs up.

Boys will also be asked to help solicit funds for the League by selling a book of 10 booster tickets at $1 each.

For further information please write Albany Little League, P.O. Box 6003, or call 526-1311.

Rainfall Report

The rainfall for the period of Tuesday to Tuesday wasn't up to its usual, according to weatherman George Bernard.

We had a little more sun and dry periods this last week, than we have had previously, with only 1.19 inches of rain during that period.

However, to date we have had 32.96 inches as compared to 9.15 inches last year.

George firmly predicts that we will pass the 1966 season record of 40 inches. We still have a couple of months to go.

Albany's Bernice Boyd, newly married but still active community member, must be a glutton for punishment.

She showed up bright and early last week for a Chamber of Commerce meeting, only to find the Chamber door locked and the office dark.

Poor Bernice, she was just a few minutes early for the 8 a.m. Board Directors meeting!

News from the Fleet Town Center informs us that Seaman Recruit, Robert T. Wightman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wightman of Washington, St. Albany, is a recent graduate from the recruit training program at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

Newest sponsor for a Little League is Dario Meniketti. Revals of sponsorships include Arrow Griffin and the Arrow Glass Arrow Glass not only sponsors the Angels ball team, but the Senior Division boy also. It's a link to community-minded people like these that our local boys look forward to playing baseball again this year.

Call Issued For Volunteer Tutors

Volunteers are urgently needed at the Merritt College Tutoring Office, to help Merritt students at least one hour a week in critical academic areas.

The need is greatest in the fields of beginning calculus, algebra and introductory chemistry. Community people are also needed as tutors in English, biology and other "heavy" courses.

"We've lost many students, because tutors are not available in crisis situations," said counselor Jack Irvine. "This is where interested community people can render a valuable service to students, since many housewives, retired persons, or those with flexible schedules can be more instantly available than our regular student tutors."

A file of volunteer tutors could also make it possible for the college to answer some of the many requests for tutors received from other institutions, special schools, projects for the educationally handicapped, and convalescent hospitals.

Those interested, and who have expertise or competency in any of the above fields, are asked to contact Jack Irvine, Merritt College, 12500 Campus Dr., Oakland; telephone, 531-4911.

Milk Prices Up

Beginning tomorrow, February 1, consumers can expect to pay one cent per quart more for milk. The raise was made, according to the Calif. Dept. of Agriculture, to offset the sharply rising cost to producers for dairy feed and roughage.

According to State Agriculture Director C. B. Christensen, the increase in minimum fluid milk prices was decided upon as a result of testimony presented by major milk producer organizations and feed grain suppliers, at public hearings held December 3, 1972, and January 3, 1973.

The one cent per quart increase to consumers, reflects the increase of 46 cents per hundred-weight, paid to dairymen by milk distributors.

Terry Culley Claims Bride In Double-Ring Ceremony

Newlyweds — Terry & Penny

A chance meeting between a young man accompanying his mother to a performance of "Talent, U.S.A." and a young girl appearing in the show, culminated in the marriage of Penny Sue Loftin of Dublin and Terry W. Culley of Albany, when they were wed in a double-ring ceremony at the Pleasanton Presbyterian Community Church on December 30.

The bride, daughter of the Clayton A. Loftins of Dublin, is a 1970 graduate of Amador High School. She is presently attending Chabot College, majoring in music, and is employed part-time in a local drug firm.

Terry, an Albany resident for 15 years, graduated from Albany High School in 1964, and Merritt Junior College, with an AA in law enforcement, in 1967. He also attended California State University in Hayward, where he majored in sociology.

The groom is also a Vietnam veteran, and is currently employed by a Bay Area paint manufacturing firm.

Penny was married in a full-length white lace gown, with a long train and a satin collar, trim and buttons. Her elbow length veil was topped with a lace headpiece which matched her gown, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and gold roses.

For her "something old," the bride carried her great grandmother's wedding band. Her "something borrowed" was her mother's cameo necklace, also handed down in the family from her great-grandmother. She also wore the traditional blue garter.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Lynn Loftin, who wore a long lime green crepe gown, with an olive green velvet top trimmed at the collar and cuffs with lime green. She carried a white muff trimmed with three gold orchids and streamers.

Bridesmaids, Stephanie Lavagnino and Penni Welham, wore dresses to match the maid of honor, and also carried the same white muffs, but with two gold orchids attached.

Patrick Culley served as his brother's best man, while Chris Lavagnino and Dave Carruth served as ushers and candle lighters.

Following a reception at the Pleasanton Hotel, the newlyweds honeymooned in San Francisco. They are now "at home" in Dublin.

No. 33 Bus Line Gets Reprieve

In a last minute surprise move, AC Transit District directors decided to keep Express Bus No. 33. The bus runs all day from Oakland to Berkeley and back, via Grove Street and Shattuck Avenue, and extends its run to Richmond, via Solano Avenue in Albany, during commuter hours.

Board members voted to retain the service for two 30-day periods to see if the patronage declines. General Manager Alan L. Bingham is to report to the Board on Feb. 28.

Approximately 60,000 pamphlets, already distributed to passengers saying the route would be discontinued yesterday, following the opening of the Oakland-Richmond BART line. Consequently new publicity materials are being prepared to be distributed to No. 33 bus riders.

Protests had been received by the transit company, from many who had been riding the bus, saying they preferred the bus to the train.

Also, according to fare schedules, a Richmond-Oakland BART ride would cost 50 cents one way, in comparison to 35 cents on an AC Transit bus. Many riders would have to pay even more fares because they would have to take a 25-cent AC Transit bus ride to get to BART.

Albany Man To Wed Next Month

Richard Steve Mower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Mower of Albany, will be married to Catherine Ann Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eugene Carter of Boise, Idaho, in ceremonies which will be held Friday, Feb. 9, in the Latter-day Saint Temple.

Richard, a 1964 graduate of Albany High School, completed a L.D.S. mission in the Western States; had a tour of duty with the U.S. Army, and graduated from Brigham Young University.

Catherine is also a graduate of Brigham Young University, and has been employed as a secretary for a local motion picture studio.

The couple plan to make their home in the Bay Area, where the bridegroom-to-be is employed.

The children who helped plant the bottle brush tree at MacGregor Primary School, in memory of their schoolmate David Baker who drowned last summer, are very excited now that the tree is blooming.

They take good care of it: tree, water it often, and see completely "fascinated" by it "David Bush," as they call it.

Congratulations to former Albany High baseball star, Len Peterson, who has been picked to the California Angels in the January free agent baseball draft.

Albany High School PTA members are giving a special "thanks" to Mrs. Alice Quan, who donated $21 to their Scholarship Fund.

The money was the proceeds of a Pre-Christmas tea she held at her home in December. A nice gesture and a rewarding one.

Bill and Gladys Britton have taken over the Lucky 13 Bar and Restaurant, which they will operate entirely separate from the Lucky 13 "after hours" club.

The Brittons, new Albany residents, have had a great deal of bar and restaurant experience and plan to open a hof-brau type eating establishment shortly after the first of February, and will serve light lunches and dinners. Let's give them a nice welcome to Albany and wish them well in their new venture.

Income Tax Books Available At PO

Two U.S. Internal Revenue Service booklets are again being offered to the public at area post offices, according to Berkeley Postmaster William Wollman.

The publication "Your Federal Income Tax" is being sold in all first, second, and third class post offices, for 75 cents per copy, and is known as Publication No. 17.

"Tax Guide for Small Businesses," Publication No. 334 is being sold only at larger post office facilities throughout the country.

"The books give both the individual and the businessman invaluable guidelines on preparing their federal income tax," said the Postmaster.

ECONOMIC RESOURCES

California has a greater diversity of natural economic resources than most European countries, reports the National Automobile Club.

Corps Seeking Local Recruits

A team of four recruiters, from the Peace Corps and VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) have set headquarters in Berkeley and will conduct an intensive drive to bring new applicants from this area into the two Federal volunteer programs.

The recruiters will be based in a trailer in the Consumers' Co-operative parking lot, 3000 Telegraph Ave., from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., through February 2, and a special telephone line, 548-0958, has also been installed to handle phone inquiries.

The local campaign will place strong emphasis on skilled trades, according to team leader, Louise Symonds, a former Peace Corps Volunteer who served for three years in Iran, and all applicants who are accepted will go into training this summer.

"We have openings in many of the 58 Peace Corps countries for gas and diesel mechanics, industrial arts and vocational education teachers, machinists, & construction electricians. We can also place skilled carpenters and construction workers as VISTA Volunteers in poverty areas in this country," the team leader said.

"And a number of countries have asked us to send them Peace Corps Volunteers who know something about farming," she added, "whether they have a degree in agriculture, or simply grew up or worked on a farm."

Other Peace Corps needs include architects, registered nurses, civil engineers, business administrators (BBA), experienced secondary teachers and college graduates with general liberal arts degrees or majors in mathematics, chemistry, physics and physical education.

Windfall For Lucky Taxpayers

A $250 million flood of state income tax refund checks should begin flowing back to California taxpayers soon.

According to state tax officials, nearly every taxpayer who comes under State personal income tax withholding, and who files a tax return, should get a check. It is likely that the refunds will be at least $100 and could be as much as $500.

Payroll withholding of State income taxes began January 1, 1972, and State officials realized early last year that the collection tables they had devised would result in sizeable over-withholding.

Reactions to the over-withholding can be expected to vary with the individual. For example, if there are any Christmas bills still unpaid when the refund check arrives, the money will be more than welcome.

Some taxpayers, those who have deliberately worked out their federal income tax withholding as a sort of forced savings plan, could be happy. However, if the taxpayer had to pinch pennies in 1972, the realization that the State collected more than necessary may be very disturbing.

And, taxpayers with ample funds and who invest their spare money, may be especially upset at the loss of potential interest income.

Church News

The Rev. Craig Jessup will return to his ministerial responsibilities at the Northbrae Community Church on February 1.

During Rev. Jessup's seven-month leave of absence, Rev. David Sugarbaker, associate minister of the church, assumed all ministerial functions.

Upon Rev. Jessup's return, the church has moved to establish a team ministry, with Rev. Jessup and Rev. Sugarbaker assuming equal responsibility as co-ministers of the church. The Church Council views this as a positive step in continuing to serve the North Berkeley community.

The church is located at 941 The Alameda.

Both Sunday services at Albany First Baptist Church, will be conducted by Pastor Larry Campbell.

At the 11 a.m. service the message "Measuring Up" will precede the monthly observance of the Lord's Supper, with special music being provided by the Senior Choir.

At the 7 p.m. service, the message will be "Growing in Prayer." Special music for the evening service will be presented by the Youth Choir. The First Baptist Church is located at 1319 Solano Ave.

AC Transit To Up-Date Buses

AC Transit is refurbishing their buses, and passengers' reactions, collected on survey cards, will guide the District in making further improvements.

Carpeting has been installed on the ceiling of AC Transit bus No. 133, one of the "Transit Liners" purchased nearly a dozen years ago to give commuters the comfort of high-back seats.

The carpeting, along with other renovation work, is part of an experiment to reduce interior bus noise and improve appearances.

In addition, two seats were removed to provide additional leg room, reducing the 45 passenger bus to a 41 passenger one.

The seats on the bus were reupholstered in a bucket style, with colors coordinated with ceiling shades, and arm rests were removed in an effort to make riding more comfortable for passengers.

Courses include six afternoon sessions of one hour each where children with breathing problems will be given breathing, posture and body building exercises by a trained physical therapist. Postural drainage and relation are also emphasized. Classes are limited to six children each. The $35 fee may be waived in cases of family need.

The program includes medical evaluation by a physician, pulmonary function tests both before and after the course and a social service interview for parents.

Physician referral forms may be obtained from the Association office at 1537 Webster, Oakland, where further information may be obtained and advance registration made.

Wrestling Productions less than two years ago, with just a $50 stake.

He plans to remain the company's top share holder, and will resume his position at the end of his four-year study period.

Your car just became obsolete.
There's a new commuter hop.

With the Richmond to Oakland BART rail line now in operation, AC Transit and BART are starting to take over town travel. Try the "Commuter Hop" from your AC Transit bus to a BART train, because now your around-town car joins the surrey with the fringe on top. Read how AC Transit and BART work together.

36 bus lines serve BART stations MacArthur to Richmond.

BART trains will run frequently from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. Later they will be operating seven days a week. AC Transit buses will get patrons to and from the stations.

Your bus ride is only 25 cents for a round trip. You pay fare only one way.

AC Transit bus riders en route to BART stations pay regular bus fare. On return trips, before leaving BART obtain bus transfer from transfer machine. Present it to the operator for a single-zone ride.

How to tell what bus to take and where to get it.

New curbside bus stop signs with blue band at the bottom tell you a BART station-bound bus observes that stop. On the front of buses is a new blue "TO BART" light alongside destination signs. It informs passengers the bus is traveling to a rapid transit station.

What to do if you need more information.
